L. Jonathan Ross Assumes New Positions for the American Bar Association

Manchester, NH (November 2006) – The President of the American Bar Association (ABA), Karen Mathis, has appointed L. Jonathan Ross, a member of the regional law firm Wiggin & Nourie, P.A., as a member of the ABA Standing Committee on Membership.

Ross will serve a three-year term on Standing Committee. The committee is charged with encouraging applications for membership in the Association and formulating plans for maintaining and increasing membership. As a member of the committee, Ross will help identify membership issues and develop suggestions and strategies to continue the ABA as the leading professional organization for lawyers.

In addition to his committee appointment, Ross has been elected the state delegate for New Hampshire to the American Bar Association House of Delegates. Each state has one State Delegate chosen by members of the American Bar Association in each state. State delegates are part of the ABA the sixty-seven member nominating committee that nominates ABA members as officers of the Association.

The House of Delegates, established in 1936, is the policymaking body of the ABA. Delegates meet twice a year and action taken by the House of Delegates on specific issues becomes official ABA policy.

Ross is also the vice-chair of an ABA House of Delegates Committee to Review the Impact of Resolutions passed by the House. He was appointed by Chair of the House of Delegates, Laura Bellows of Chicago.

As a member of Wiggin & Nourie's Domestic Relations Group, Ross focuses in the areas of complex divorce, custody issues, child support, alimony and domestic relations litigation. His work has earned him the distinction of being listed in the Best Lawyers in America every year since 1983 and election to The American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers.

Established in 1870, Wiggin & Nourie has grown to become one of New Hampshire's largest law firms. Wiggin & Nourie is a multi-service law firm and member of Meritas, a loose affiliation of law firms throughout the United States and the world. Membership in this organization allows the firm to offer legal representation wherever clients have a need.

Practicing law throughout New Hampshire and several New England states, Wiggin & Nourie's mission is to provide the highest standard of legal services to its clients. For more information, call (603) 669-2211 or log on to www.wiggin-nourie.com.
